Volume 47
Friona High School
Friona, Texas

Between the gild of Youth

And the gold of Adulthood,

We have tried to capture

The elusive moments of Life:

The silver minutes and hours

That quickly flee

And pass

Beyond human recall.

In some measure

We set them before you

. . . As etchings

In memory.

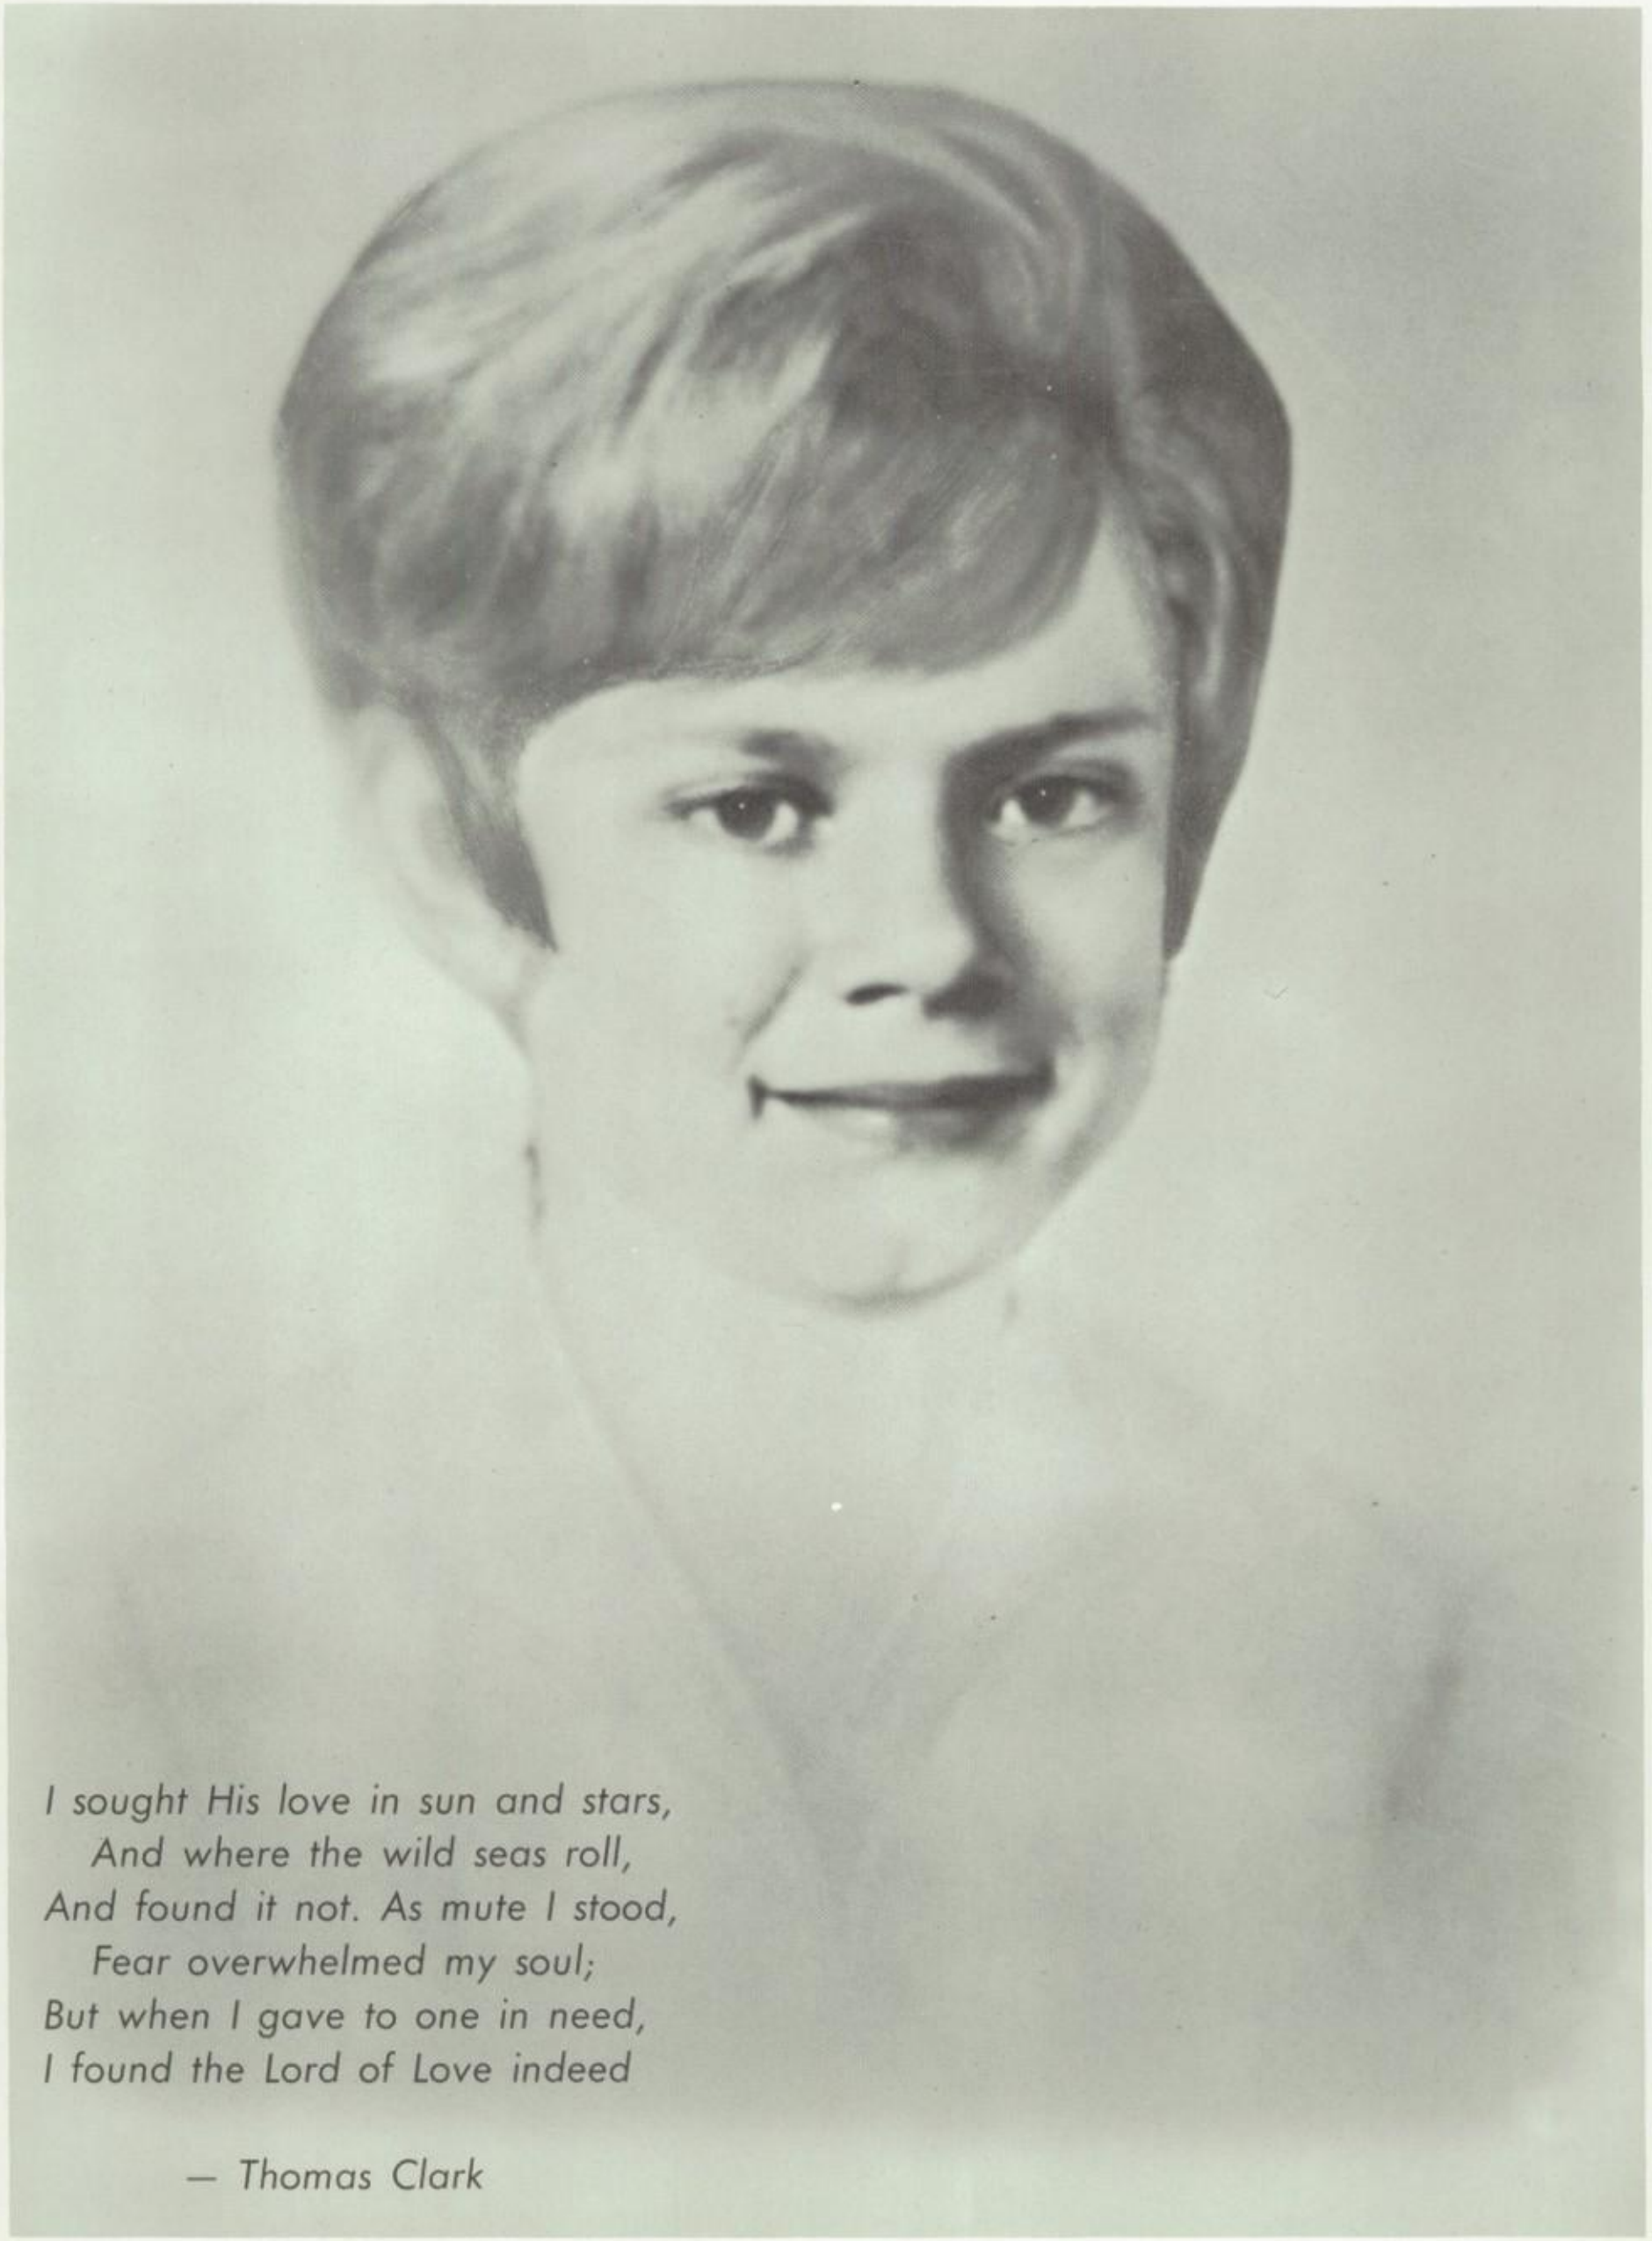
In Dedication to a Dear Classmate — Jan Shirley —



I sought His love in sun and stars,
And where the wild seas roll,
And found it not. As mute I stood,
Fear overwhelmed my soul;
But when I gave to one in need,
I found the Lord of Love indeed

— Thomas Clark

Forever in the Memory of her Friends

The warm-hearted memory of Jan Shirley and her ever present smile will forever be with those of us who knew her and greatly benefited from her friendship. Always willing to lend a helping hand whenever it was needed, she warmed the hearts of those with whom she had contact.

This fine young lady left a lasting mark on all who knew her and her sweet personality will forever be etched in our memories.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

The book, the noise, the students have gone; the rooms are empty; the halls are silent. Through the dim light can be seen a boy and a girl, listening again to the voice that teaches, following again the hand that guides. Then they are gone; they have bartered their youth for adulthood and exchanged their dependence on the hand for self-reliance. Like childhood, the voice of the teacher and the hand of the administrator are beyond recall, but the foundation they laid is eternal, and deep in the individual they molded still the hand and the voice may be found—forever etched in memory.

ANNUAL MESSAGE

The CHIEFTAIN is a mirror which provides a quick look at a full year of our school activities. Behind these activities is much planning and organization. We are indebted to the Board of Education for its time and civic responsibility. The faculty and students work together for a common goal of better education for all. And behind these groups are the citizens of our Community who provide the facilities for both curricular and extra-curricular activities. We should be proud of our school and community spirit and heritage.

The election of two trustees of the school board each year exemplifies the democratic process by which they are answerable to the people of the community they represent.

The varied occupational backgrounds of the board trustees reflect the true meaning of democracy and equal representation for all in making school policy.

Many hours are spent in an attempt to give our community the best school possible. I am sure we all appreciate these fine people and the work they do for our community.

Good outstanding schools are representative of a good outstanding community. Mr. Roberts contributes to our school by collecting and assessing the local taxes.

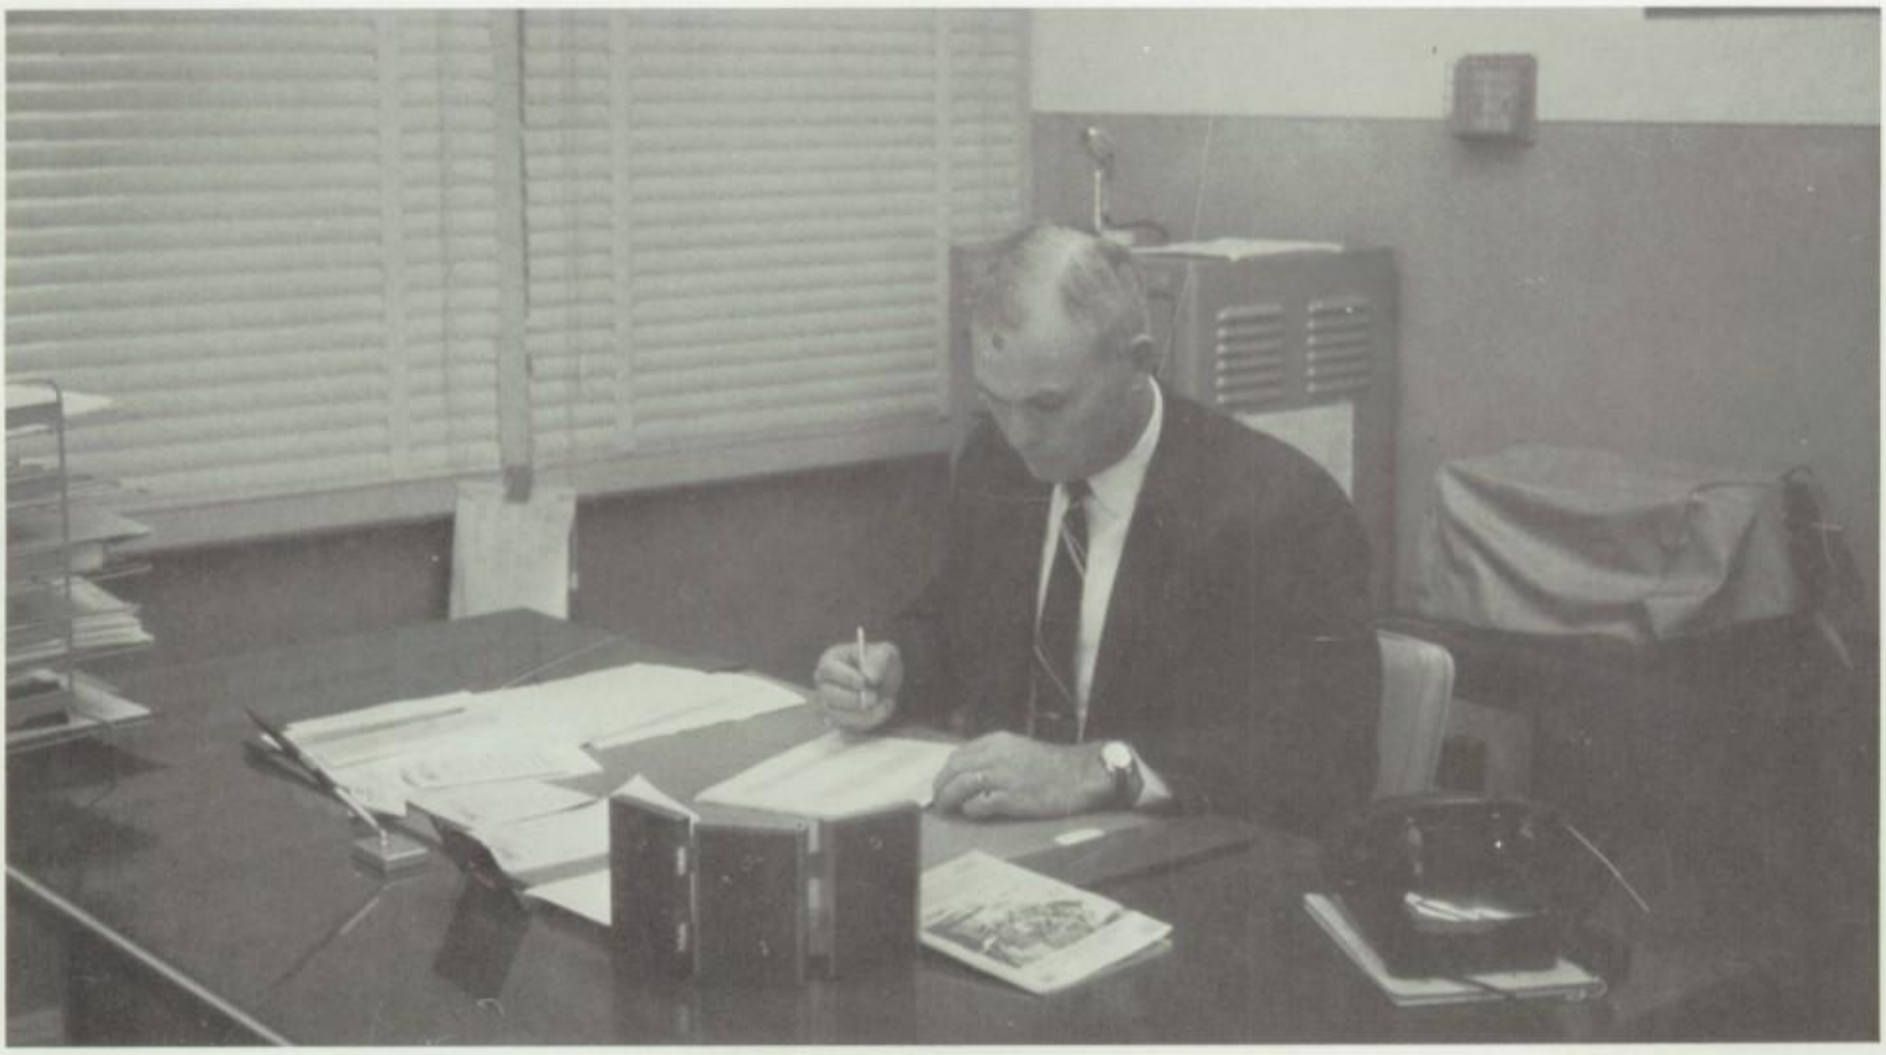
Counselor: A Necessity to F.H.S.

Mr. Duggins has become a tradition to Friona High School. To see him at all ball games and school activities is not at all unusual. This goes over and above the excellent job he does as counselor to all of the students. A word of thanks from every student would be only a start in showing our appreciation. Let's let him know how much we admire and appreciate him in every way we can.

Mr. Duggins, explaining the rules for the peace essay contest.

Mr. Raymond Cook — High School Principal



One job for Mr. Cook is giving announcements twice a day.

Mrs. Brown is in her usual position working on the absentee records among other hard jobs required of any high school secretary.

The day the doors swung open to the students marked not only a beginning but also the culmination of many days of preparation by Raymond Cook. Despite all preparation, success in the pursuit of excellence was dependent on the proper response from both the community and the professional staff. No one knows better than Mr. Cook that the interest and concern of the community, parents, and students is necessary for a fine school system. It must be wanted.

Mr. Cook has given many years of service to our school made thousands upon thousands of decisions with the deepest of humility and the finest of professional wisdom.

In order for a student to develop properly, he must be placed within a favorable environment. The cafeteria and custodial staffs of the Friona Schools work hard in an attempt to provide the necessary environment for the students of Friona. Without the continuous efforts of these unsung heroes, the excellence for which we strive would prove to be fruitless

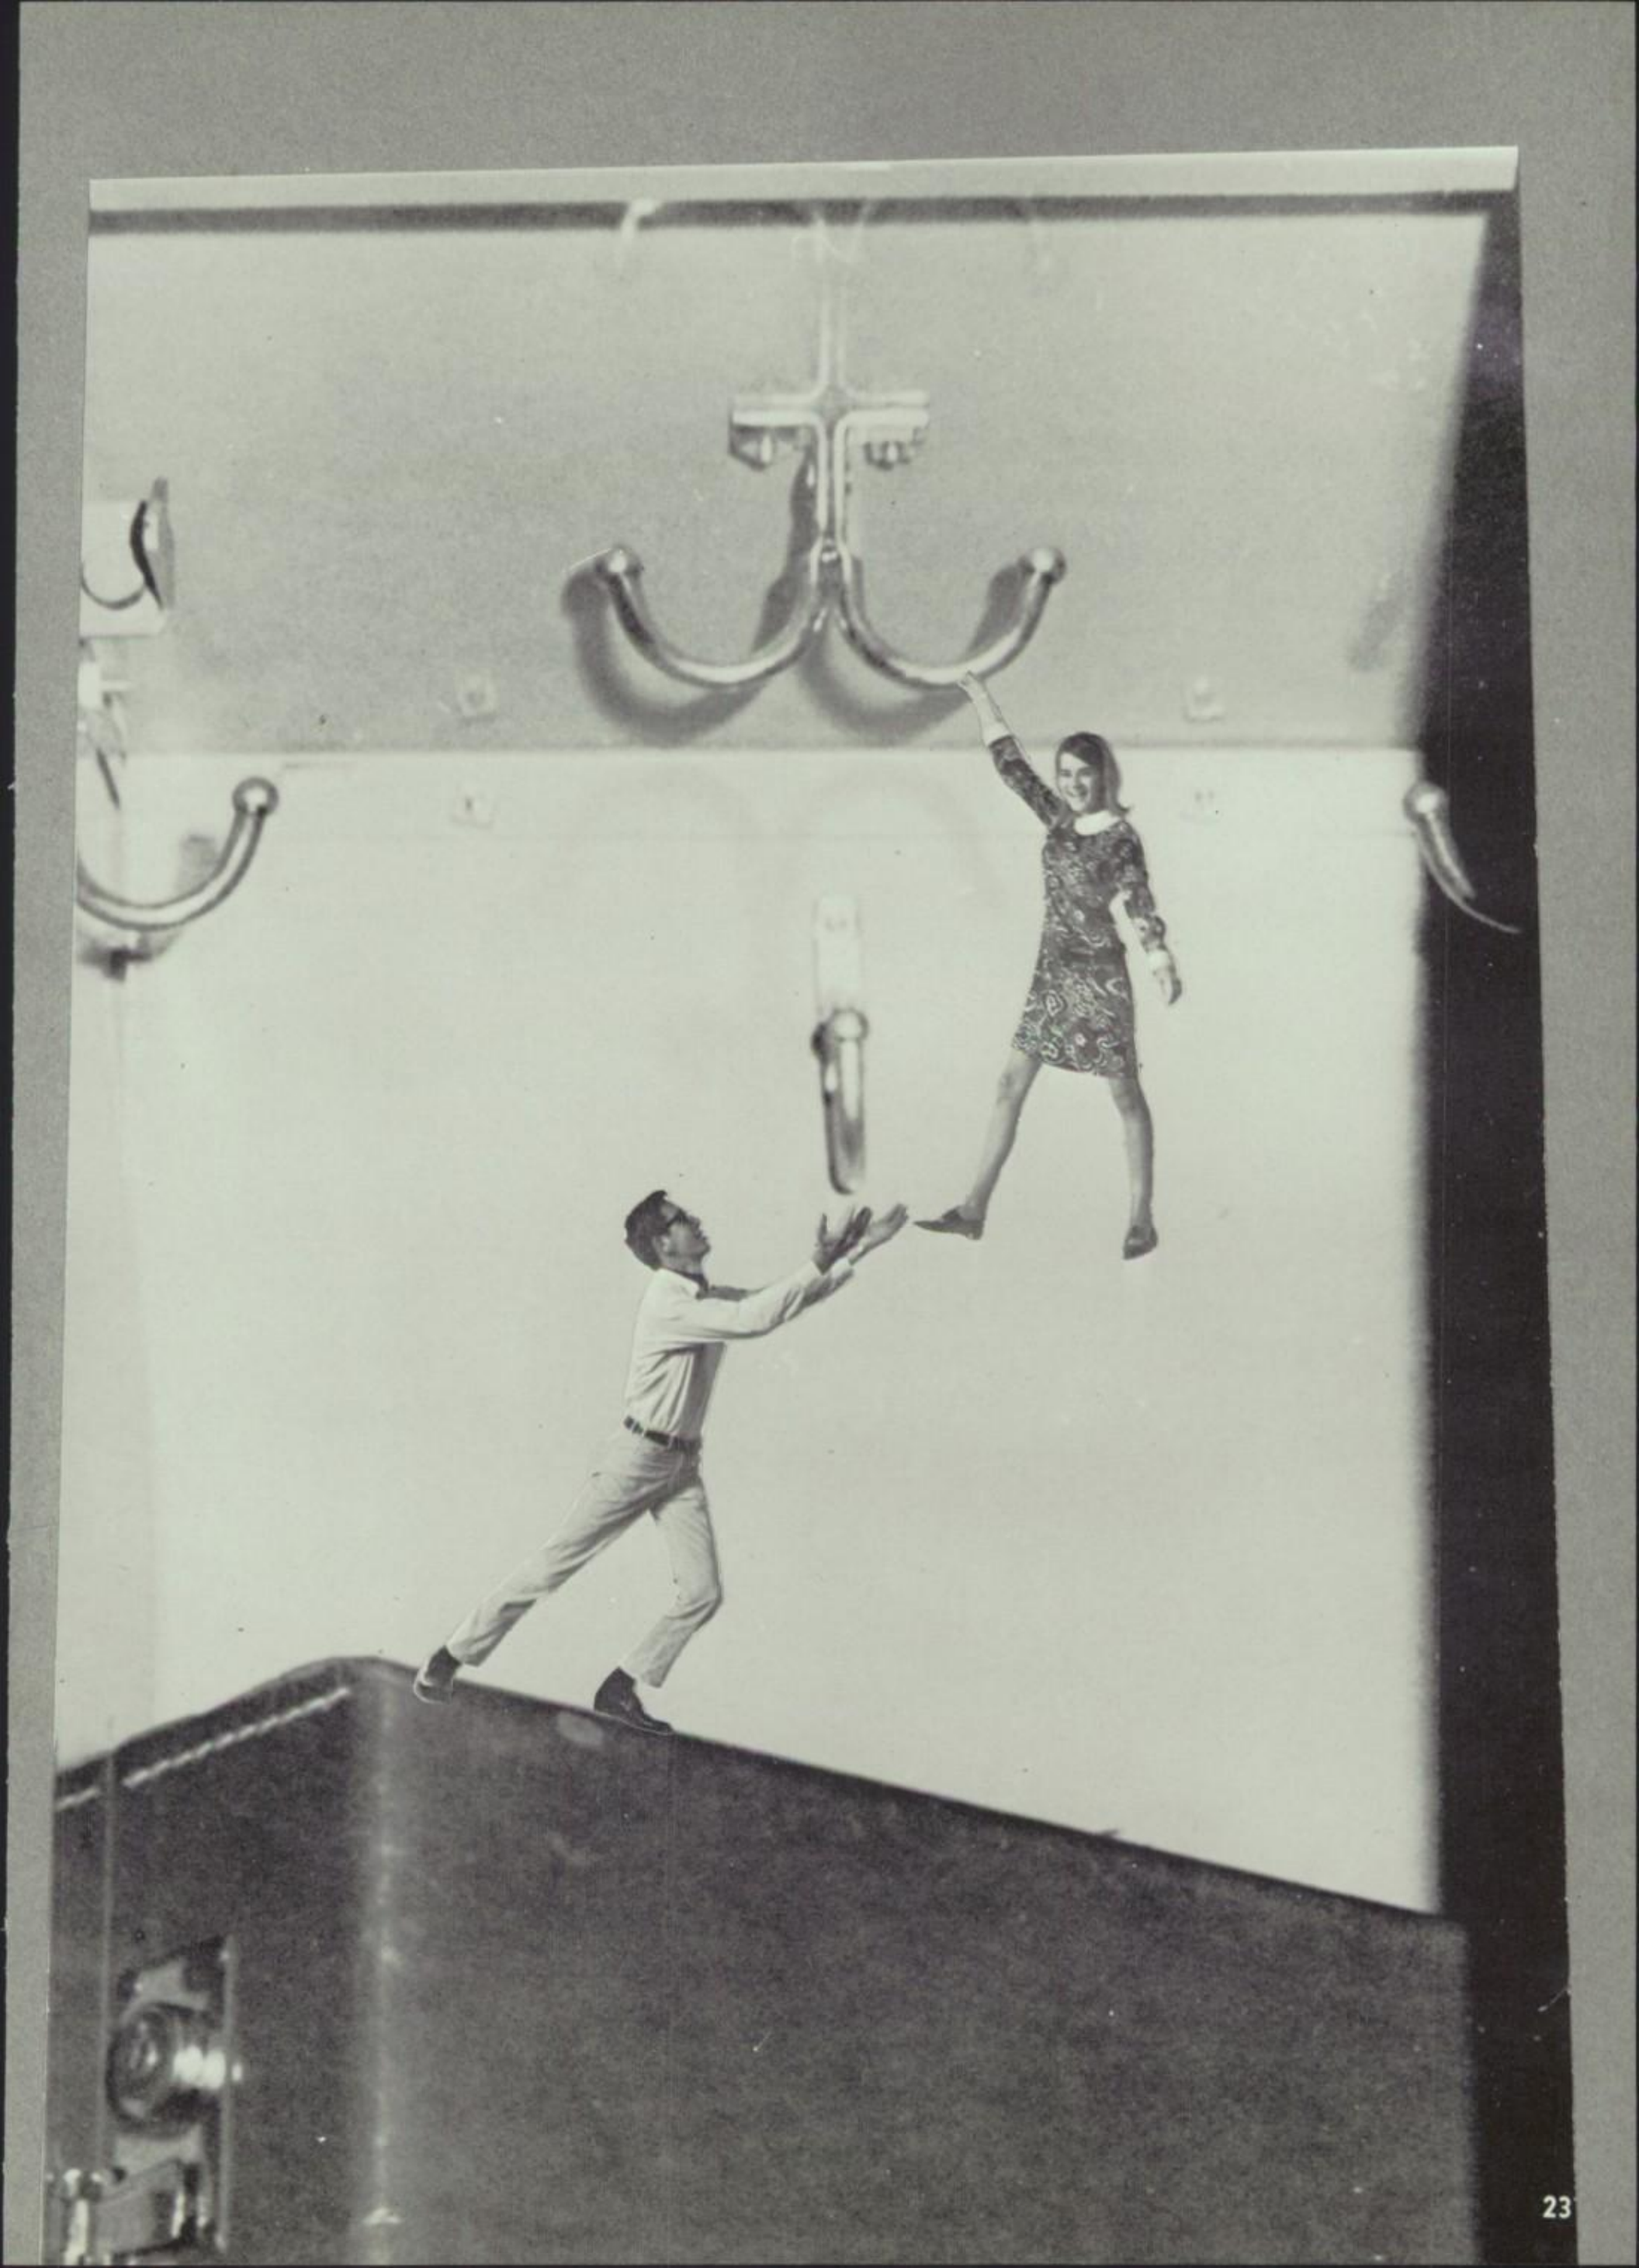
STUDENT LIFE

The books are closed; the ruler unused; the pencil is stilled. The classroom, that center of all problems and laughter, is now filled with new faces. The desk where a student once worked is occupied by other names with other problems and laughter.

Perhaps he feels a vague longing for the lines of Shakespeare or for the challenge of an unsolved mathematics problem. Perhaps his once strong complaints have faded somewhat as he recalls an insignificant triumph in his studies.

Still he knows he may never re-open the book; it has been closed by the passing of time, and he has passed into yet another phase of life's learning.

The only remnants he may keep are his recollections of a ringing school bell and a teacher before a class. These are etchings in memory.



Time has left such moments

. . . as etchings in our memories.

The most important part of student life and, in fact, of obtaining an education is, of course, the student.

ORGANIZATIONS

His eyes study the dusty gavel on the shelf, and for a time his thoughts turn to another gavel which opened a meeting of students. But now, that time is long since gone; gone, too, is the unity that bound them together in some common purpose. And time, like dust, has gathered about the gavel.

The club itself is beyond recall, for organizations are unlike gavels in that they are not tangible objects that may be readily picked up and put back to use. Rather they are composed of unity, spirit, and purpose; these things can only be recreated as etchings in memory.

The Student Faculty Congress's activities began with the anual job of co-ordinating Homecoming activities. Halloween candy was sent to the Abilene State School in November. A new project was undertaken this year; the SFC sent money to Girls Town which was very much in need of any help given to them. The election of next year's officers proved to be an exciting experience. Campaigning was the biggest ever. The SFC organization is an asset to our high school in that they take care of anything needed to improve our rules, regulations, and activities. This is considered the most important organization of the school because of the policy-making. The members of the organization of leaders of tomorrow, as well as today.

The Miller-Wilson Chapter of the National Honor Society is, as the name implies, an honor organization rather than an activity club. The members in this chapter are selected by the principal and members of the faculty on the basis of their achievements in Scholarship, Service, Leadership, and Character. The members are required to maintain a scholastic average of 90 with twice as many A's as B's. Active membership consists of candidates from the junior and senior classes, and the sophomore candidates are normally on probationary membership. The object of this chapter is to reward those students willing and able to meet the requirements for membership.

Larry Truitt, after giving a speech to the FTA Club was elected to the honor of Mr. FTA of the year.

The Purposes of FTA are to give members an opportunity to explore the field of teaching and to be of service to the school.

In order to accomplish the first purpose, the organization has a working agreement with the administration and faculty whereby members aid and work under the direction of faculty members in various ways designed to give realistic classroom experience.

To serve the school, FTA members aid in back-to-school night activities, teachers' meetings, Christmas activities, and many others.

Mary Rando, a very vivacious girl in any activity, was chosen Miss FTA for the year 1966-67. This is a great honor.

o Develop Public Speaking Qualities

Forensics Club was organized this year when the individual speakers united with the debaters. Although it is a relatively new organization, the Forensics club has distinguished itself at various speech tournaments this year. Its members are developing the skills of public speaking in trying to prepare for becoming responsible citizens of tomorrow.

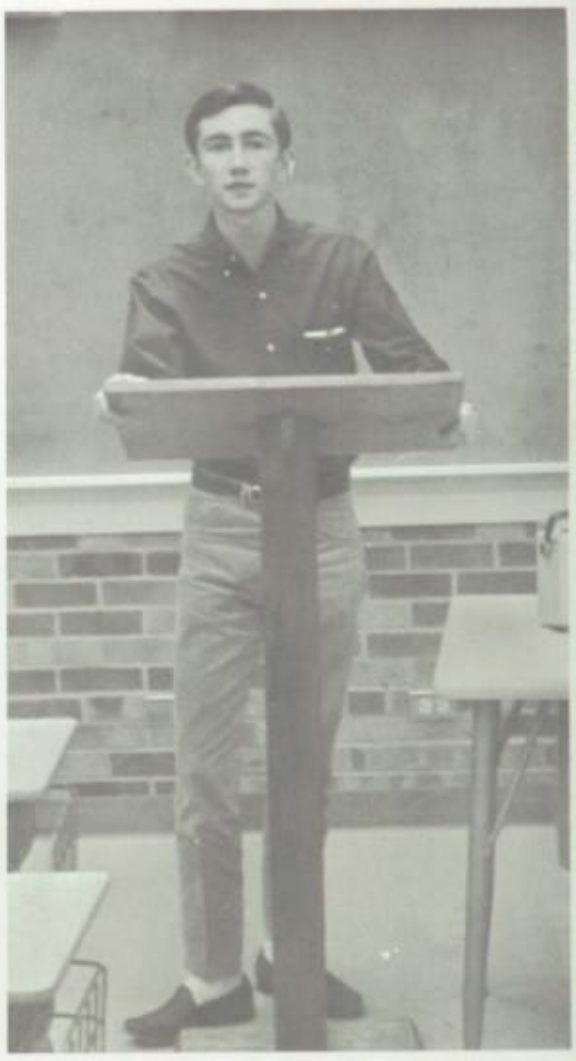
Mr. Manchee is the sponsor and coach of debate.

Debate provides a means through which its participants can learn public speaking and at the same time learn about important national and international subjects. It takes many hours of practice to develop enough skill to participate in the interscholastic events against other schools. Debate at F.H.S. is developing into an organization which is gaining a favorable reputation throughout this area.

Mr. Manchee, instructing some debaters, seems to be making a helpful point.



Jim Bob Jones prepares to refute the statements of an opponent.

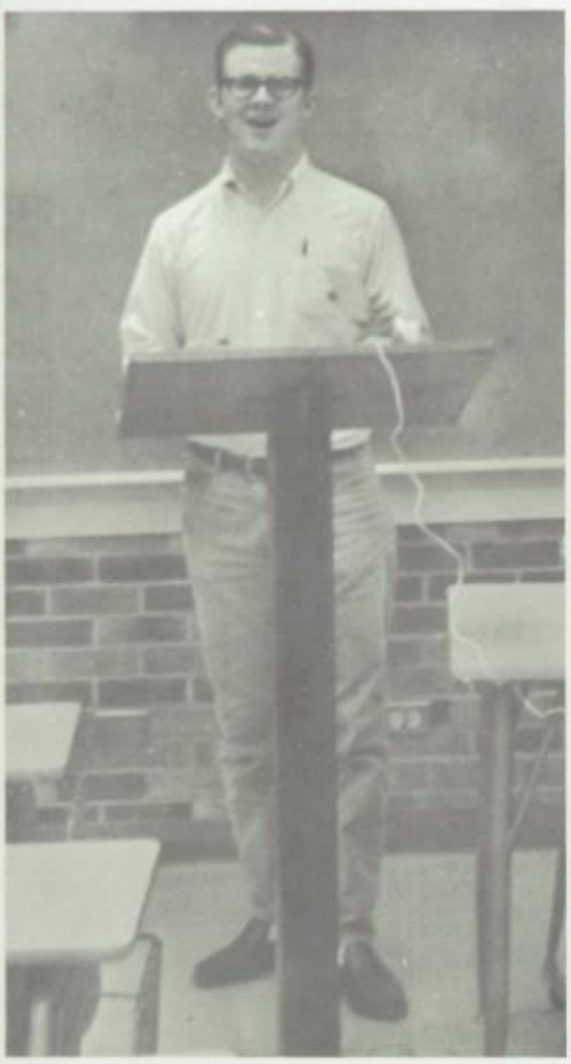
Susie Carmichael speaks on Foreign Aid—this year's debate topic.

Debaters receive some important information as Mr. Manchee conducts one of the many after-school meetings of this organization.



These debaters always seem to have their mouths open.

nderstanding of the language.

Mrs. Ortega is the sponsor of the Spanish Club and is doing a good job after taking the place of Mrs. McClain at mid-term. She teaches the customs as well as the language of people of Mexico. Her students greatly benefit from her unceasing efforts. This learning will be valuable to them in future years.

LOS CONQUISTADORES

The purpose of the Spanish Club is to help the students get a realistic idea of Spanish customs, ideas, and ways of life. Conquering the obstacles of the language, the club enjoys speaking the language and being together with others that understand them. The club was started in 1959 by Mrs. Pearl McClain and in 1967 was taken over by Mrs. Ortega. As Conquistadores the members conquer the language of the Spanish.

The Spanish Club furnishes the tree for entertainment purposes. Jan and Diana assist in any way possible.

The purpose of the Future Nurses is not only to interest girls in all phases of nursing, but in all phases of the medical field.

During the summer, as a project, the girls work as "Future Nurses" at the Parmer County Community Hospital. This helps the girls decide on what phase of nursing best fits their own desires in the medical field. It not only gives them an idea of what being a nurse is really like, but of what it is really like to deal with human life.

FHA Organization

The Future Homemakers of America has eight purposes. These are:

1. To promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfaction of homemaking.
2. To emphasize the importance of worthy home membership.
3. To encourage democracy in home and community life.
4. To work for good home and family life for all..
5. To promote international good will.
6. To foster development of creative leadership in home and community life.
7. To provide wholesome individual and group recreation.
8. To further interest in home economics.

The members of the FHA organization strive to carry out these purposes in all ways possible. These are the reasons this organization helps to develop efficient homemakers for the future years of life.

Seriousness goes along with the fun on presenting the Thespian Play

The Friona Thespians are a nationally recognized troupe and is in full Membership with this organization. The goal of the Thespian Troupe is to instill the creative arts into the students who are and want to be dramatically inclined. The Thespian is a leader in goodwill for it is through them that the opinion of man and his world are voiced. The Thespians of Friona High truly believe in the high morals set forth by our forefathers. They strive to entertain the great multitudes of people in voice, movement, song and dance. To make them laugh or to cry, this is the goal of every Thespian. We hope that in years to come this troupe will continue to strive for better understanding and friendship in the world.

The cheerleaders lead on during an exciting basketball game!

As leaders of the spirit that we will never forget, the cheerleaders strive to promote good school spirit in every phase of school activities.

The largest part of their job remains unseen. It consists of painting signs, making locker tags, selling spirit ribbons, and many other projects to keep up the spirit in Friona High.

This year, our cheerleaders did a fine job of keeping our spirit one we will remember forever. Whenever we pick up our 1967 Chieftain annual, this spirit will be etched in our memories.

Here we see the cheerleaders leading our student body in a chant.

Members of the annual staff are James Gable, Becky Turner, Billy Burton, Mac Hancock, Pat Tannahill, Jerry Stephens, Donna Shackelford, and Tim Rhodes.

James and Donna work hard and fast on a deadline assignment.

This final deadline isn't getting to you, is it? "Not at all," says Becky.

Would you believe we met the final deadline?

The annual staff must gather, organize, and lay out the pictures and stories necessary to tell about the activities of an entire school year. This requires much cooperation upon the part of all the people involved. If it were not for this cooperation, the efforts of the annual staff would prove to be quite fruitless. We of the 1967 Chieftain staff wish to sincerely thank everyone who has made this publication possible through the extensive and continual cooperation we have received.

Although the 1967 Chieftain is a book which was written by the annual staff, it is the story of a year of the lives of all the students. Please read this book carefully and relive with us those golden moments which are forever etched in memory.

An Account of 1967's Activities

Editor Mac Hancock and Assistant Editor Pat Tannahill discuss plans for the 1967 Chieftain.

Assistant Editor Billy Burton and Jerry Stephens worked in the dark room and proved to be quite good photographers.

Mr. Duggins, sponsor of the annual, examines some of the pictures which Billy has as Donna and Becky look on.

The annual staff took time from their work to build this Christmas door which tied for third place.

PERSONALITIES

The music plays; the crowd cheers; the curtain rises; and each player finds a part of himself in every line.

The music plays; the crowd cheers; a king and queen reign for a day while roses, like laurels, are presented to the honored.

The music ceases, and the applause fades. Like time, the stars of yesterday have come and gone, and the roses are crushed between the pages of a book. All that remains are the etchings in memory.

Dear Mac,

After much deliberation, we have decided on the two pictures which are circled on the back. Believe us, this was a very difficult decision to make, for we have never seen such a group of "good-looking" boys and girls in all of our lives.

We loved visiting your beautiful school and had a great time there. We hope that some day we'll be able to come back and visit again.

SPORTS

As the wind blows softly over the empty football field, as silence reigns over a lonely gym, as stillness settles over a deserted golf course, and as a lonely face stares at each of these, the shouts of the crowd come softly to his ears and the glory of victory is forever in his memory. The memory portrays the last yard to the goal, one last basket to victory, and one last putt to win the season's first victory. A feeling of satisfaction flows throughout his body; and as the work and sweat fade into the distance, they are replaced by etchings in memory.

As the 1966-67 football season comes to a close, there is left etched in our memories many exciting moments of roaring crowds, marching bands, and the colorful teams. As long as we have our memories of these wonderful, action-filled games, we will remember good times at Friona High School which can never be taken away from us. The good sportsmanship displayed this year by the "Fighting Chieftains" will live on, and remain forever etched in our memories.

The Friona Squaws . . .

Another basketball season has skipped by without time to think. The team of '66-'67 began the season with practically the same team from the last season. They began strong by winning the first half of the round robin, only to lose to Floydada in the second round. The tie resulted in a play-off for the district championship with Floydada and after a tough battle the girls from Floydada emerged as DistrictChampions.

The seniors—Cindy Ingram, Linda Fallwell, Susan Neill, Betty Taylor, Kathy Jones, Lou Cochran, Judy Shirley, Lydia Buske, Brownie Cole, Glenda Mingus and Martha Martin—have provided the leadership which enabled the Squaws to earn the respect of their community and gain the admiration of every girls' team and fan in this area as well as the state. This year's seniors will go down in history because of their willingness and ability to represent our school and community as they have the past basketball season.

Many people have the idea that the title "Squaws" is only the sports name given to the girls. Many rules and regulations are placed on girls who go out for sports. These are in a pressing club which requires good sportsmanship, manners, and representation of our school. Breaking rules placed on the girls results in disbanding or set back in position. Any girl on this team can be counted on to represent our school in the best way possible.

The Annual Staff joins with the students and others in wishing the Squaws great success in the future as they make our school well known for its sportsmanship and conduct.

The fighting Squaws for '66-'67 are: Back Row: Coach Williams, Delores Phipps Susan Neill, Lou Cochran, Lydia Buske, Judy Shirley, Patty Ragsdale, Middle Row; Mgr. Boys Physical Education

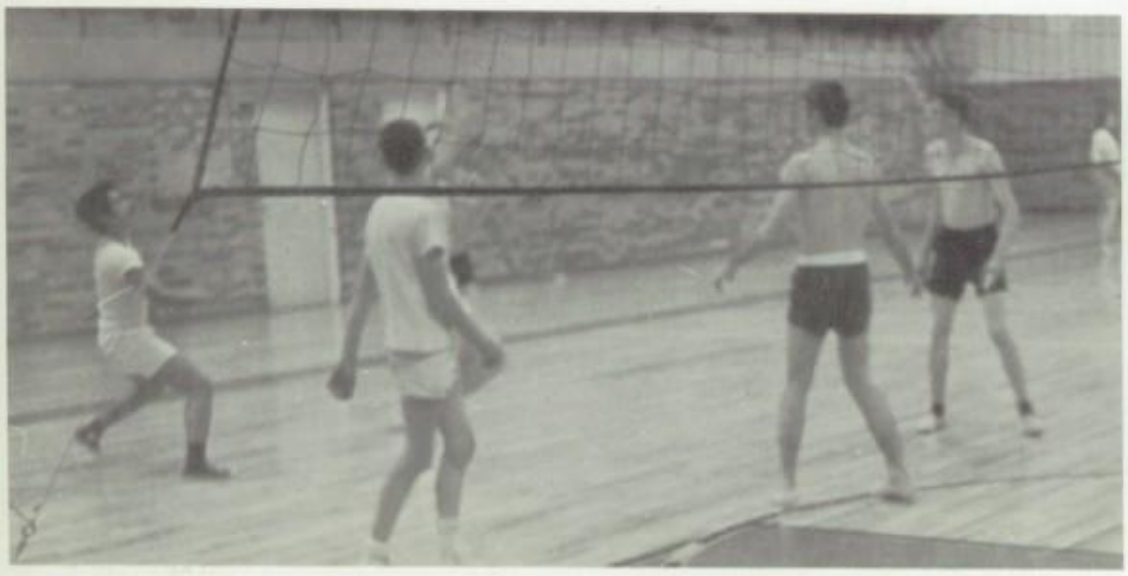
These boys are participating in the physical education program by playing volleyball. They appear to be waiting for the ball to come back across the net for action that is unbelievable.

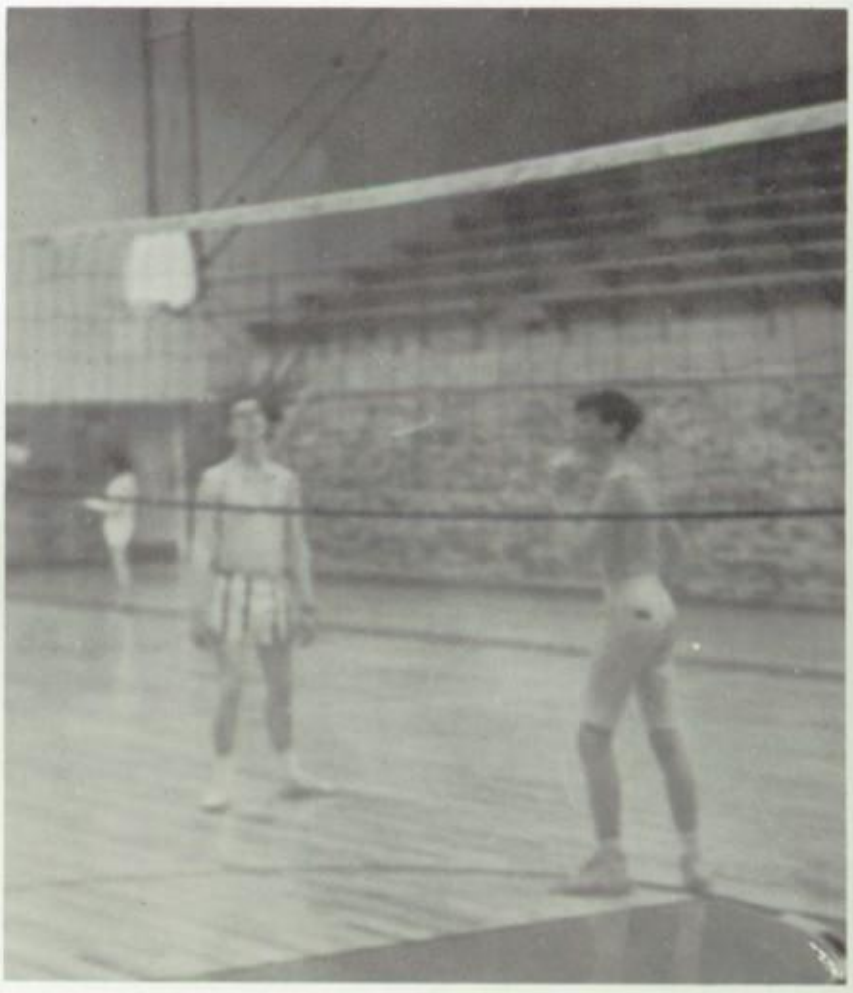
Tim (Monk) seems to be relaxing after a hard day in the jungle.



One of the factors we learn in P.E. is poise?

The boys' physical education program is made up of several different activities to keep the young men physically fit for the future. They play volleyball as is shown on this page, basketball, dodge ball, boxing, football, weight lifting, and the obstacle course which is an addition to the whole physical education program. The boys are never running out of things to do. They also have to do exercises which is harder than any other activity. PE is a required subject unless band is taken and it is considered as a P.E. activity.

George and Jerry S. seem to be assisting Jerry Teel in lifting the bars. He is trying to become strong like his friends and he has some good teachers for this purpose.



There is a variety of dress in each P.E. class.

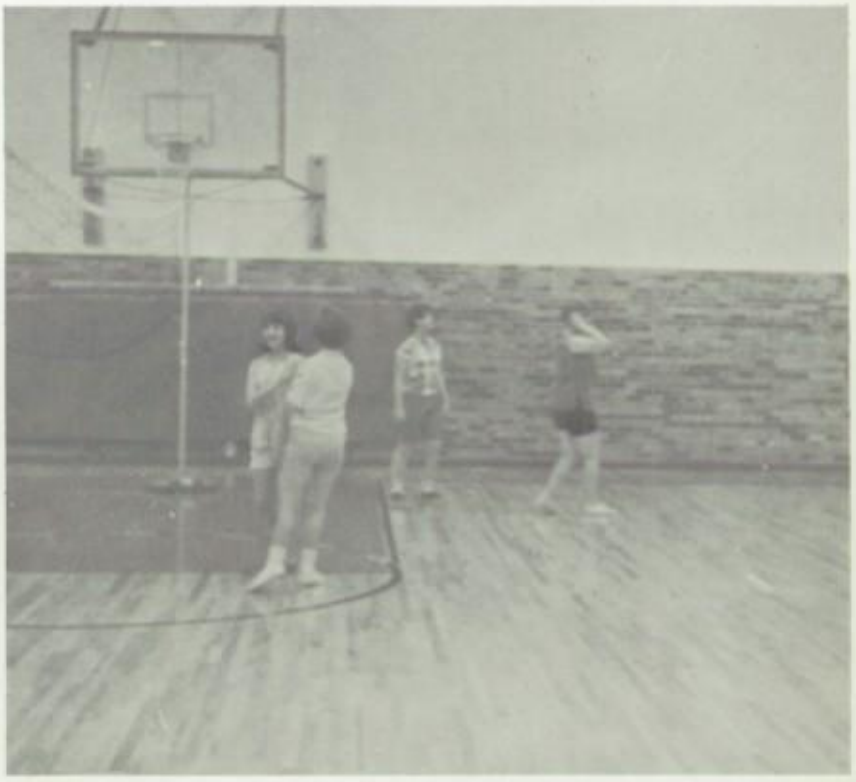
Girls Physical Education

The girls have about the same type program as the boys except they don't has as many activities. Some of them are too rough for the feminine sex. We have to save our energy for the rest of the day. We have to take the physical fitness test twice a year. The first test is compared to the second to see how much our physical condition has improved. This class is worth the time and effort given.

The first period class of physical education is shown playing volleyball after having done their exercises. This is one of the many games played in the class.

The girls who take physical education do exercises to trim down to the size always wished for in years past. Debbie Hays appears to be tired or camera shy.

Becky and Donna are lagging behind on strength because it takes both of them to lift a five pound bar and Pat is already strong enough to lift the 150 pound bar.



The fourth period P.E. class has a different type of a volleyball game than does the other class.

CLASSES

The smiling face in the photograph has faded a little, but the features of yesterday's boy still resemble those of today's man. The expression and the smile are the same now as they were then because the picture was taken while the adult was being molded.

Yet no mere photograph could capture the real images of his high school years. These are the things not seen in the face nor felt in the mind. These are the things of which dreams are made; these are the things of the spirit and soul; these are the things that make up the etchings in memory.

This is a typical scene of the senior girls at a slumber party. There are several of these type parties at which the girls such as the one shown, Donna Shackleford, gather to have fun and slumber little. This picture was taken approximately two or three o'clock in the morning. By the look on her face she has had a hard night and appears to be trying to get a little rest. With camera bugs around it is hard to be easy about the whole mess.

Shown is a typical English class in which the students keep their minds on their studies and the teacher has no trouble with these nice kids. Cindy Ingram is still playing cowboys and Indians with her fingers as the gun. Lou appears to be worried about being wounded.

Brownie Colleen Cole

John Ed Duke

Linda Kay Fallwell

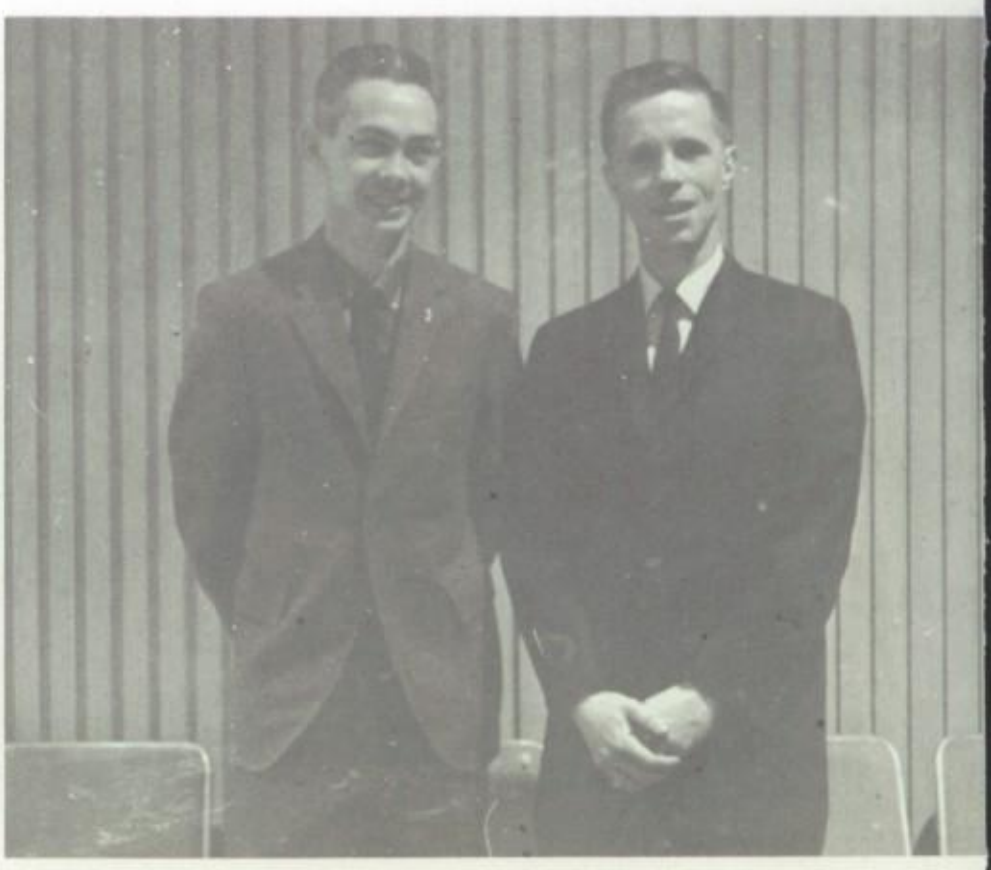
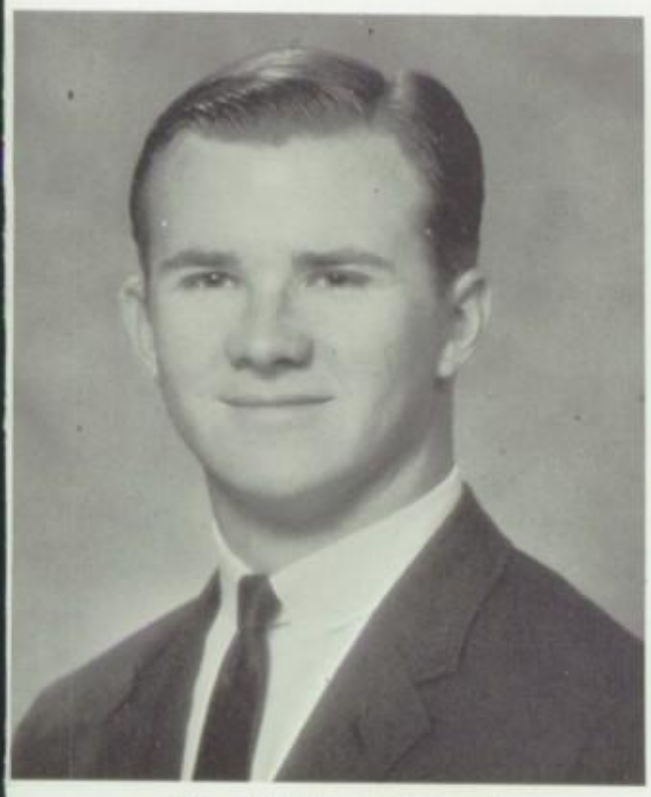
Shown in this picture are the sponsors of the 1966-67 Senior Class. These two men, Mr. Mal Manchee and Mr. Lionel Young, are the backbone for our class. They take care of all important business needed for the seniors as they prepare for graduation. They are willing to devote long hours in order for our senior year to be of great happiness and success. Much gratitude is given to the most important part of our class, the sponsors. Everyone gives a big THANK YOU to them for their work.

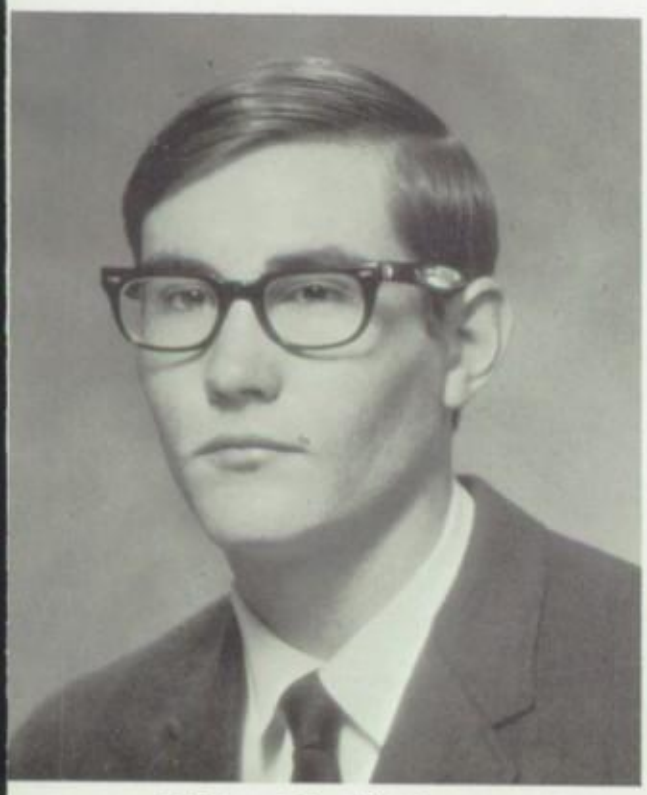


. . . develop more wisdom . . .



Mac Wesley Hancock

Susan Neill trys again for two shots as Hazel waits for the rebound, if one is needed. Of course, Susan made the two points; she never misses.



Clifton David Harper

Deborah Susan Hays

Clifton Joe Hefley

Shown are three of the characters from the senior play learning about the newest gossip. They start early these days.

Donald Harold Hoover

Rhonda Sue Lawrence

Berta Mae Lindsey

Joe Bob Mann

These senior boys are receiving a banner at the district FFA meeting. These boys are the top officers of the Friona Chapter and represent it very well in their work and participation of activities. This banner was for good representation and attendance.

Donna Shackelford and Bob Carrothers are working hard on the senior door at Christmas time. After they did a little more work, it won first place. A well-deserved award.

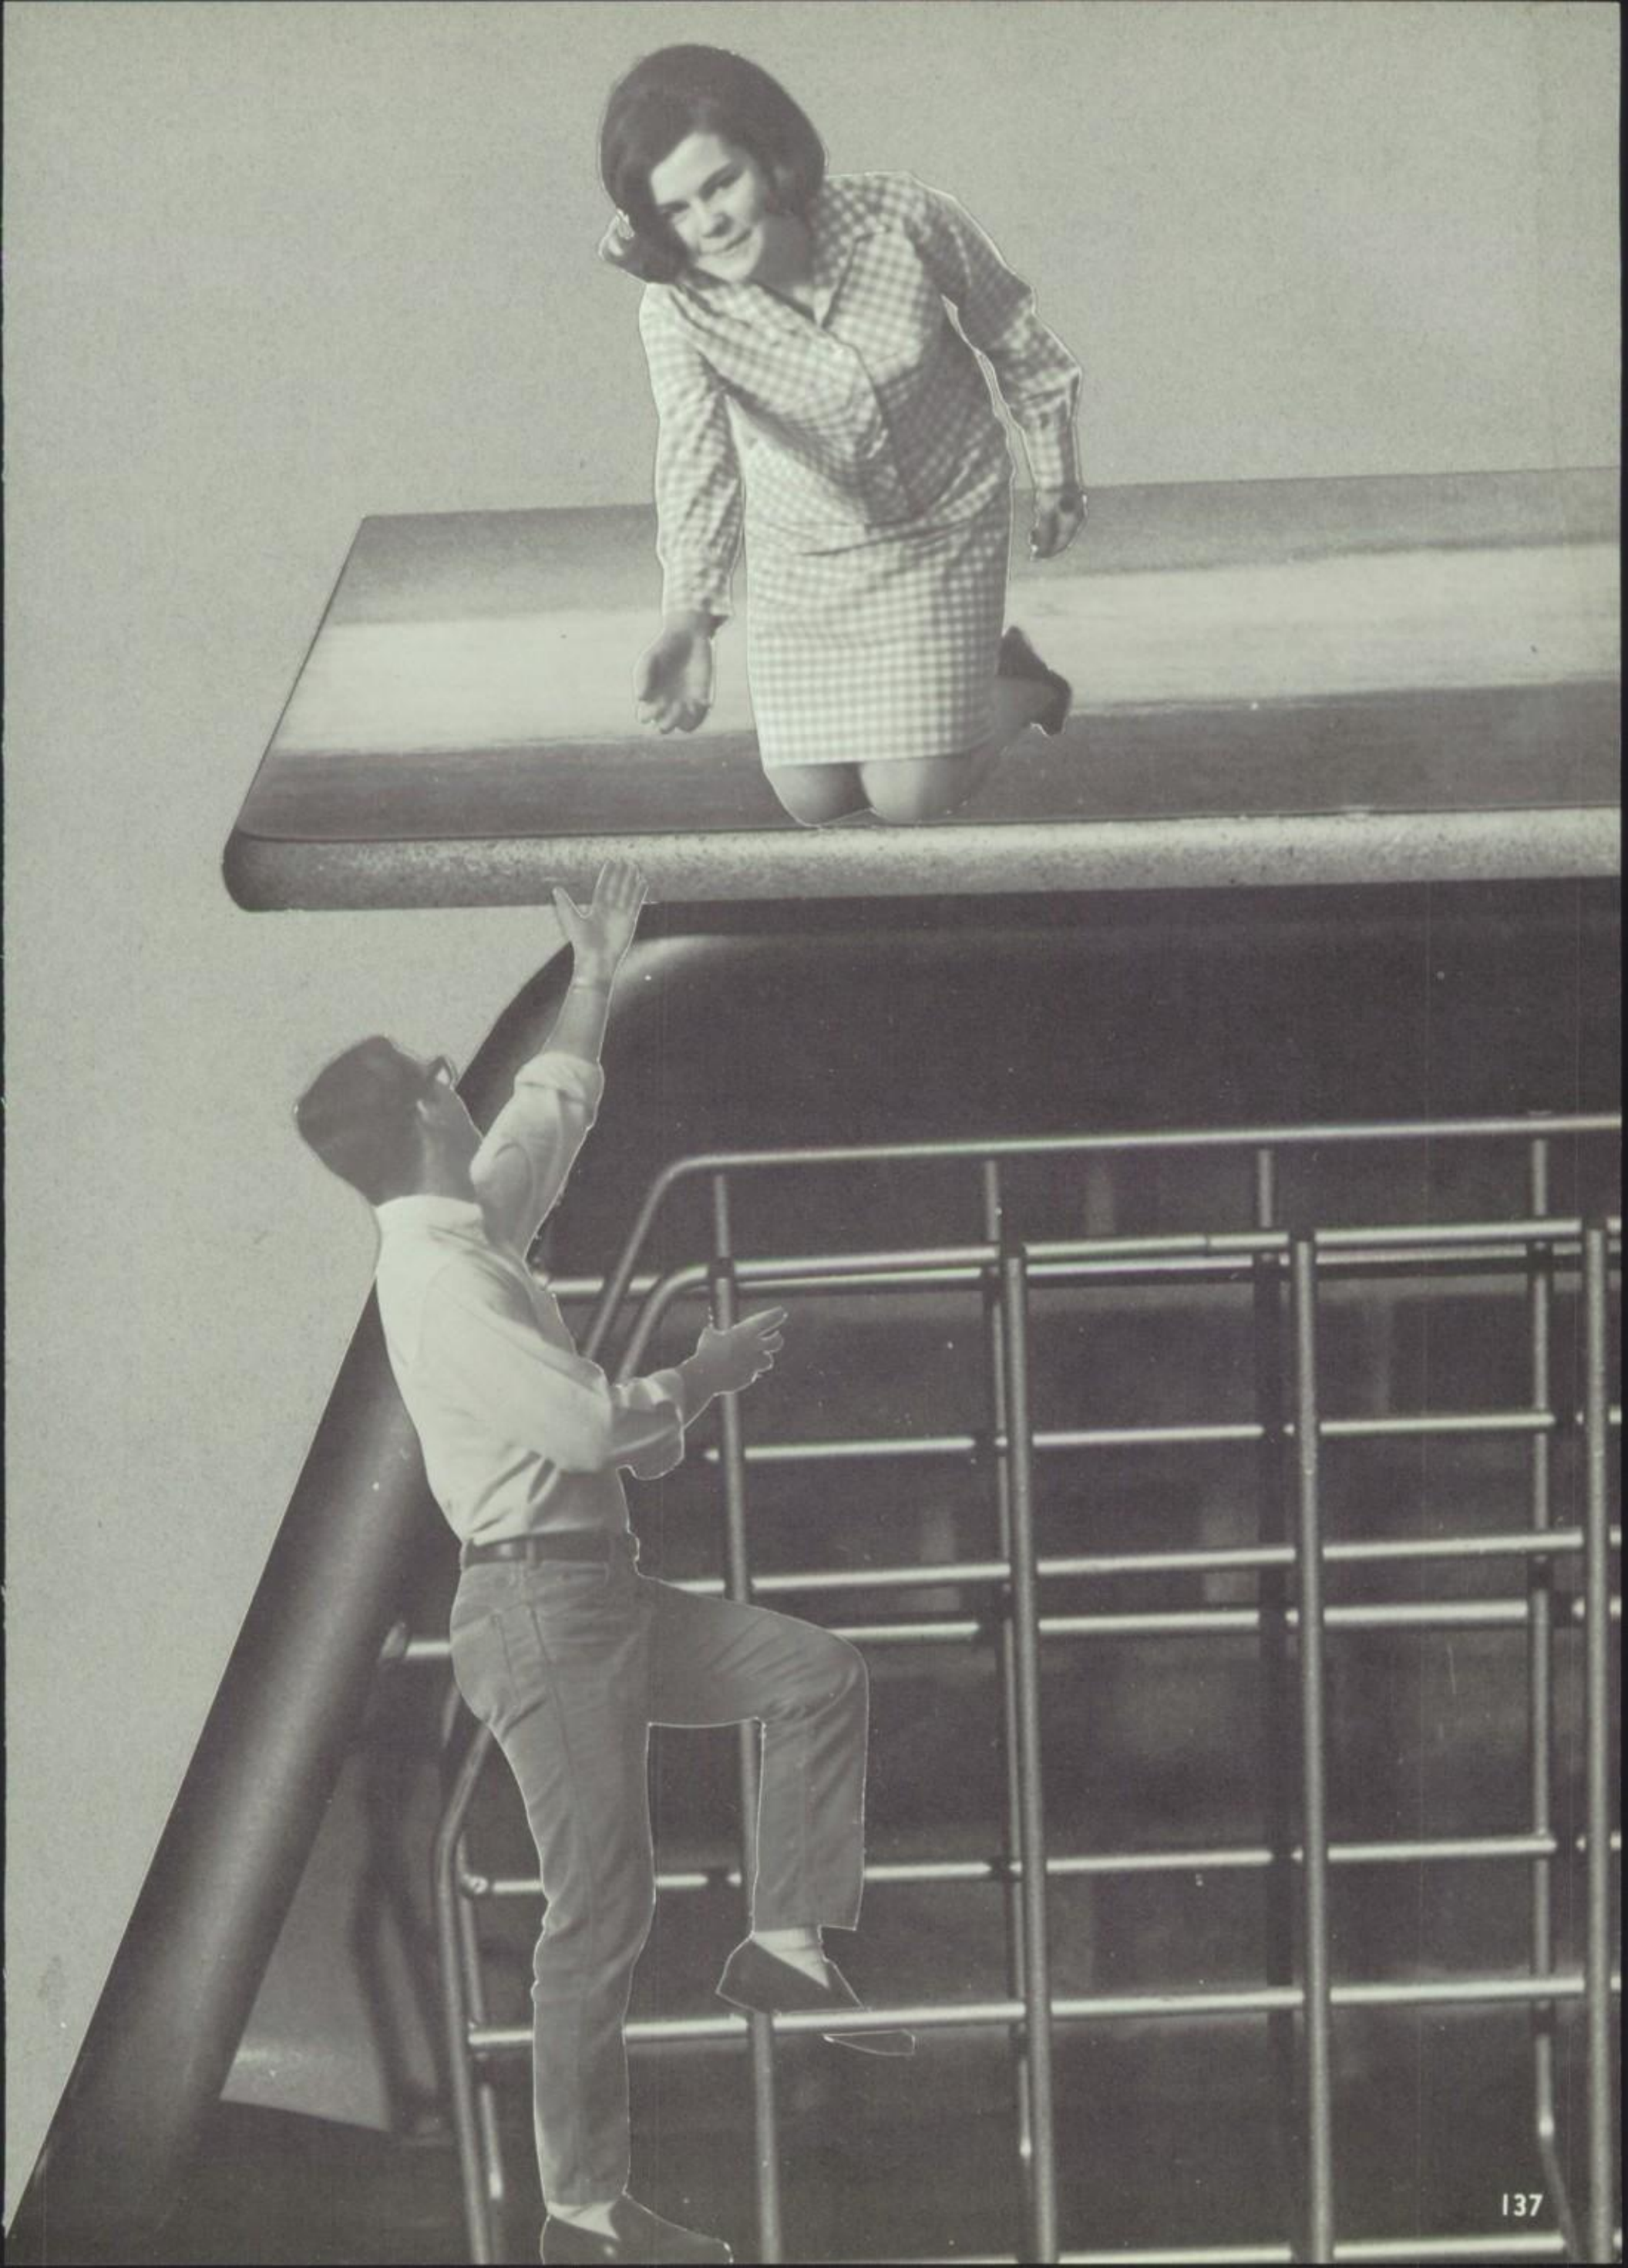
JUNIOR HIGH

In the darkened halls of junior high, that very important place of transition from elementary to high school, can be seen the boy and the girl who once walked these halls. The sounds of a crowded hall are suddenly swept from their minds by recollections of other junior high activities. These activities can never be relived for the boy and the girl have long since passed into the more advanced stages of education. Their junior high life is present only as etchings in memory.



In Dedication to a Dear Classmate — Mikala Renner

One short sleep past, we wake eternally,

And Death shall be no more; Death,
thou shalt die.

— John Donne

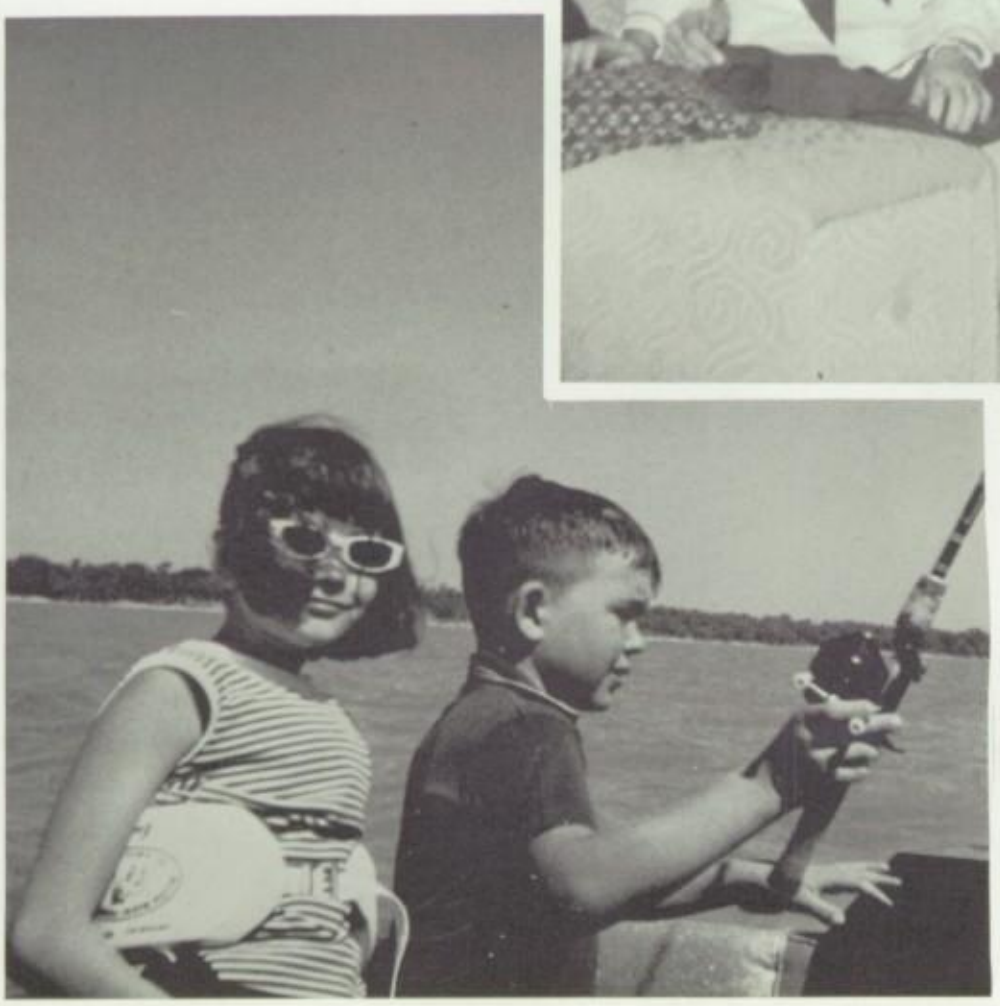
Forever in the Memory of her friends

Even though we were able to share the joy of Mikala's friendship for a relatively short period of time, we live with knowledge that all the lives she touched are better for having known her.

We cannot comprehend her loss, but the quality of this young child's life will forever be etched in our memory.

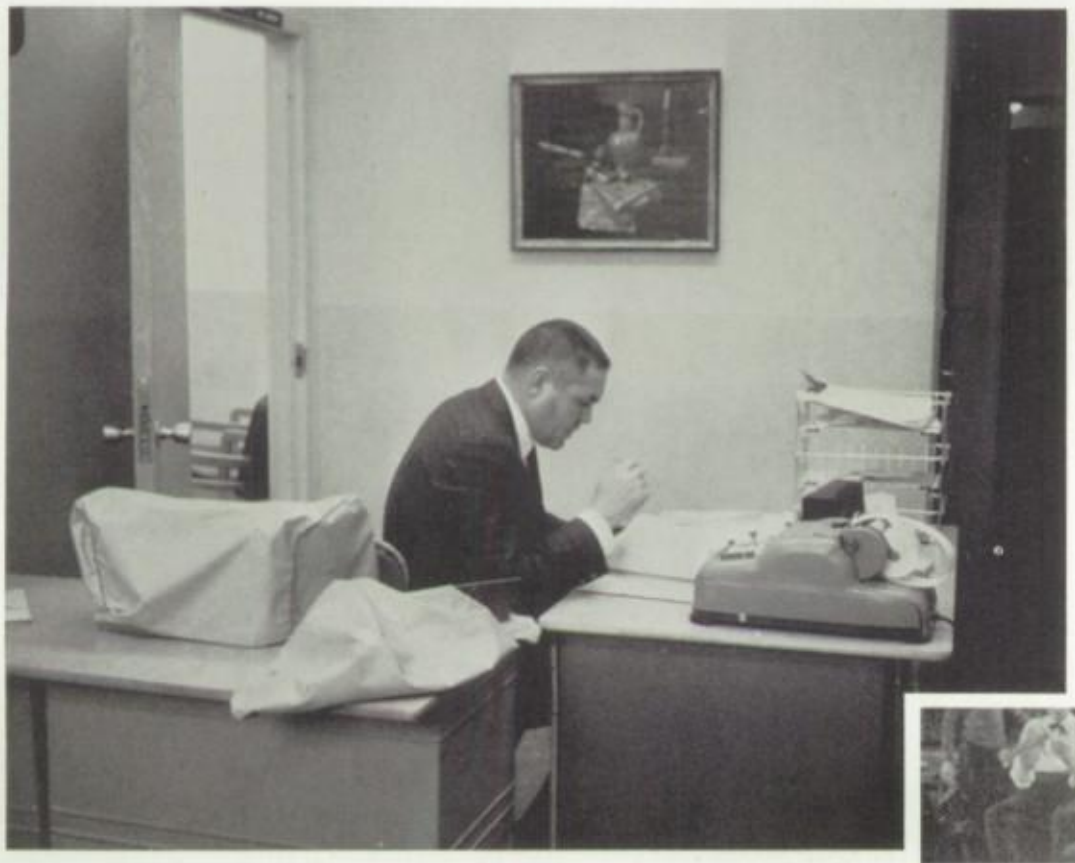
Mikala is sharing the excitement and happiness of her eleventh birthday with a group of friends.

At the age of ten, Mikala is pictured with the family before enjoying the festivities of the Christmas season.



Mikala was a great lover of sports. She is shown with her cousin, David, as they attempt to develop themselves into great fishermen.

Mr. Tom B. Jarboe — Jr. High Principal



Mr. Jarboe is shown here conducting the business for the Junior High finance. We hope they come out with a profit.

Mr. Jarboe is principal of the Friona Jr. High. A person well-liked by students and faculty, he is now serving in this capacity for the 15th year. His diligent work has proved to be very successful and things are still improving.

Mr. Jarboe, don't you know you are not supposed to look at the camera.

ELEMENTARY

Into the dark halls of a deserted school walks the elementary boy of days past. The silence of this surrounding is drowned out by the noise and excitement of a first day of school. The noise has long since ceased; the excitement is no longer felt. Although the date is unimportant, the happenings of that long ago day are forever present . . . as etchings in memory.

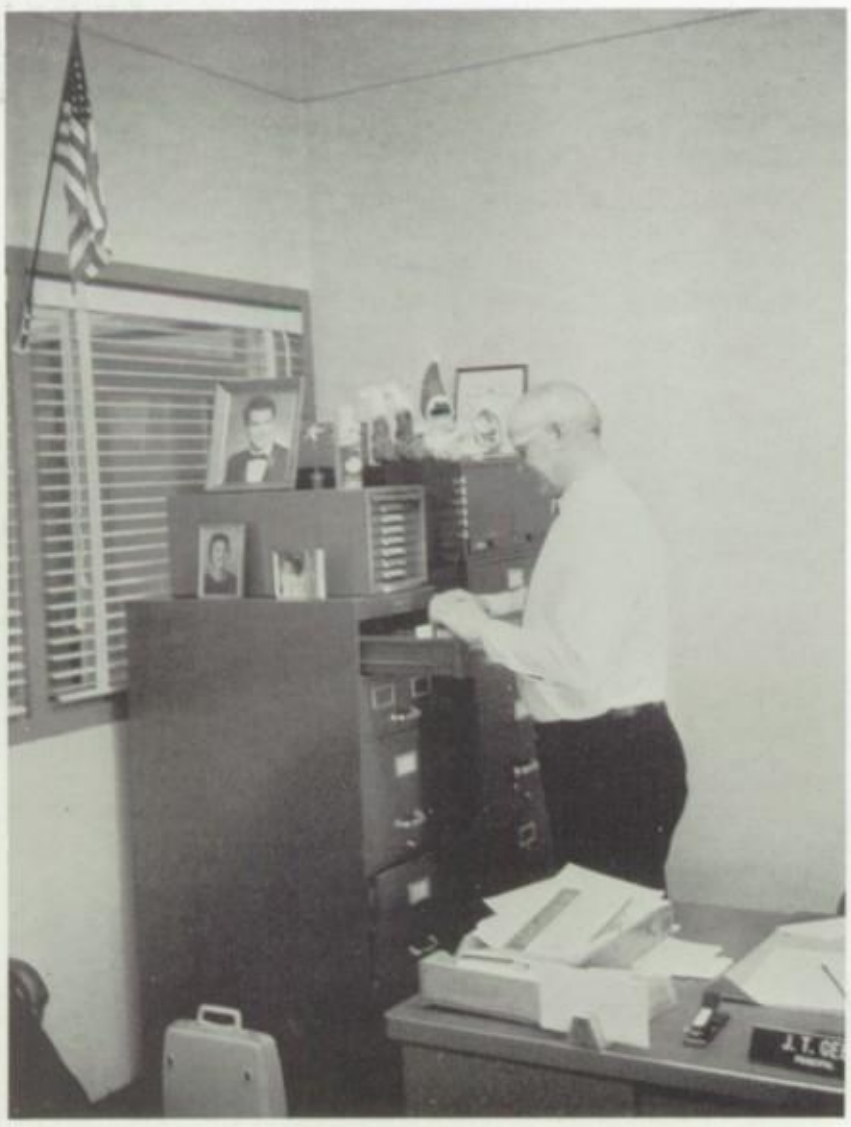
Elementary Principal — J. T. Gee

Mr. Gee is shown here with one of the many elementary students.

Mr. Gee has served the Friona School system as elementary principal for seven years. Prior to this, he served as a teacher of Agriculture for thirty years.



Here we see Mr. Gee in his daily routine work.

The daily announcements are an important part of Mr. Gee's duties.

Mrs. Carroll — School Nurse

Nurse Carroll has helped maintain the health of the student body for eleven years. She is always available for treating anything from a skinned knee to a more serious illness. Her dedicated service and warm understanding will forever be etched in our memories.

Nurse Carroll is bandaging a skinned knee, which is part of her routine duties.

ADVERTISEMENTS

The bustle of choosing just the right suit and tie or that divine dress and matching shoes from the department store has ceased. The wonderful aroma of Mom's food, made from ingredients bought at the local grocery store, no longer greets us as we return home after a hard day at school. The gaiety that abounded at the drive-in no longer is a daily experience for us. Still these things are with us as etchings in memory.

THE ROAD GOODBYE

The road I took was named Goodbye
The path looked strange, and I wondered why
It left familiar things behind
A hand caught mine . . . I paid no mind.

The stranger never once did say
Just what had brought him on my way.
On we went, and some afraid
I wished I hadn't come, but stayed.

All the friends that I once knew
Took a road named Goodbye too.
There were no two roads just the same
Though all were called Goodbye by name.

The road went on; we went on too,
And I was sad, for then I knew
That never could I be the same
Having walked down Goodbye Land.

And though I couldn't understand
We walked together hand in hand.
We said no words, but just walked on,
I thought of things now past and gone.

I thought of games I'd lost and won,
I thought of all the things I'd done,
I thought of those I loved and cared,
Of times we'd had, of things we'd shared.

I thought of those I'd come to know.
Just knowing them—they'd helped me so.
I thought of things, of tears I'd shed . . .
Those same things now brought smiles instead.

The tasks I'd done, those left to do,
I wondered how I'd make it through
When something inside seems to say,
"The best you can from day to day."

The way was rough; I knew the score,
It never ends . . . There's always more.
But now I know that all in all
Each thing in its own place will fall.

I thought of all the happy days,
The sad ones now just seemed a haze,
And in a flash I came to see
How much the past had meant to me.

We walked along—I wondered where
The future led and what was there.
The past still echoed from behind
I was its, and it was mine.

But in my heart was still a fear,
And in my eye a shining tear;
Yet on my face there was a smile,
And we walked forward all the while.

I walked along the road Goodbye.
I looked back one . . . I heaved a sigh.
Then I remembered at my side—
My silent, but my constant guide.

The stranger's hand I felt in mine.
I looked into his face this time.
I asked his name—he turned just so,
He smiled and said, "I'm called Hello."
